High School Drawing and Painting

Working mainly from direct observation, students will explore concepts of color, form, light, and composition while learning about the unique qualities of acrylics and drawing materials. Students will learn basic skills and techniques needed to create strong works for portfolios. The list of supplies required for this class can be found on the Classes for Children/Teens page under the column marked "CS" next to the class.

High School Drawing

Students will explore formal elements of line, form, value, texture, and space as they draw from direct observation, including one session drawing from a clothed model. This course exposes students to college-level foundation drawing concepts and is appropriate for all levels of students who would like to increase their drawing skills and create works for their portfolios. The list of supplies required for this class can be found on the Classes for Children/Teens page under the column marked "CS" next to the class.
